

THE INTERNATIONAL SOVIET

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TIMES
PARIS, May 24.—The League of Nations at heart will consist of a series of international Soviets. The principle in government as disclosed from the democratic principle is this: Democracy gives one citizen one vote. The Soviet gives one citizen one vote. And in the League of Nations a number of councils, conferences and committees are organized not to represent states, not even to represent peoples; they are frankly organized upon the Soviet principle, to represent jobs. The bankers have their Soviet in the reparations committee with its tremendous power. The philanthropists have their Soviet in the League of Nations. The farmers have their Soviet in the bureau of agriculture, which deals exclusively with farmers' international interests. The merchants have their Soviet in the economic council which is made up of business men, and its work is to consider primarily the buying and selling. So the commission on International Labor Legislation is really an ideal Soviet—a workmen's and bosses' Soviet. It will function as a legislative body to consider special legislation for the workman and his employer. In a democratic one great committee or legislative body would consider all these things, and consider each in its relation to the common good. But the Soviet principle provides for class legislation for class ends—bankers, merchants, farmers and laborers—on the theory that the good of all classes is the good of the whole which all these classes form.

It is a new idea, and being well expressed in the organization of the commission on International Labor Legislation it is well worth while to look at that commission a moment.
Recognition of Labor Unions.
Two things are established with the League of Nations under the Commission on International Labor Legislation. First an annual labor conference—the first session of which will meet in Washington in October; and second an International Labor Bureau. There the legislative and administrative government are established. The conference or legislative branch of the government is composed of four members from each state in the League of Nations—two from the government and one from the employers and one from the employed. As the fundamental principle of the commission is recognition of the unions, it may be assumed that only union labor or its friends will be accredited to representation in the conference, and similarly only accredited representatives of employers' unions or associations will be admitted. It is the Soviet principle of one job one vote—whether the job be in the front office or the back shop. "No scabism" wanted? Seems to be the motto. The administrative branch of the workmen and bosses' committee is the permanent labor bureau of the League, established at Geneva, the seat of the League of Nations. It will collect information on international or industrial labor, distribute this information to labor unions and employers' associations throughout the world, and prepare programs for conferences. It will publish a magazine in French and English. The governing body of the commission consists of twenty-four members, twelve representing the governments, and six each the workmen's unions and the employers' associations. This governing body will be charged with looking after the administration of the international labor legislation passed under the direction of the conference. The direction of the conference will be secured by initiating a proposed labor law in the annual conference, passing it by a two-thirds vote, when it must be submitted to the law making authority in each state in the League of Nations. It cannot be pigeon-holed by the state department. But after it is submitted to the law making authority of the state, that state is of course free to do as it pleases. But the publicity gained, the prestige secured and the impetus gained by having a labor law recommended by a national labor congress in which both employers and workmen are represented, will mean much to a proposed law.

International Labor Has to Be Carried Out.
Now the governing body which has (Continued On Page Six)

THEY'RE ALL SMILES
BRUSSELS, May 24.—Count Von Brochdorff-Rantzenau and the other members of the peace delegation, who went to Spa on Thursday, returned here this morning with the exception of Mr. Theodore Melchior, the financial expert. All the members of the party were smiling and seemed in good spirits.

AUSTRIAN ARMY SLASHED
PARIS, Friday, May 25.—(By the A. P.)—It was announced tonight that the treaty to be presented to Austria would be considered at a plenary session next Tuesday and would be laid before the Austrian delegation probably on Wednesday.
The council of four today considered the military terms as framed by Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the allied armies; General Diaz, supreme commander of the Italian army, and other military leaders. Austria's formidable army of upwards of a million men, which was second only to that of Germany, is reduced in the treaty to fifteen thousand men; virtually all military supplies would be surrendered or destroyed and further military production abolished.

COX VETOES HIGHWAY BILL, SAYS IT MENACES CAUSE OF GOOD ROADS
COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—Governor Cox today vetoed the Feels highway bill and in his veto message declared: "I would be false to my every concept of duty if I did not veto this bill because it menaces the cause of good roads, and is calculated to set the whole movement back for a decade at least." Republican leaders in the legislature, contemplating the governor's action have declared they will pass the bill over the executive veto.

MUCH WORK TO DO
PARIS, May 24.—The American delegation has prepared a memorandum of the Austrian treaty. This document, which is still to be translated, besides the Turkish and Bulgarian treaties, covering the whole range of inter-allied subjects. The memorandum runs thru many pages, with scores of headings. It leaves no doubt that the conference will continue for a considerable time after the treaty has been signed and President Wilson has left. It is expected that the other American members will remain to consider matters still requiring attention.

UNION CHIEFS SAY ONLY FEW WILL RETURN
TOLEDO, O., May 24.—Union leaders declared today they were confident that only a straggling few of their 7,000 or 8,000 workers in the Wills-Owens and Electric Auto-Lite plants who were locked out May 5, when they refused to work 48 hours instead of 45 hours a week, would return to work Monday when the factories have been reopened.

ALLIED PLANES OUTNUMBERED FOES' 2 TO 1

GERMANY FORCED TO RETURN SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS STOLEN FROM THE CHINESE

One of the astronomical instruments Germany must return to China. Included in the peace terms presented to Germany is a provision compelling the Germans to restore to China valuable ancient astronomical instruments taken from that nation years ago, forming part of the loot obtained in Peking. These instruments were made in the year 1674 and at present adorn the Orangery palace at Potsdam.

COURT HOLDS NO BAN ON MILD BEER

NEW YORK, May 24.—Uninterrupted production of "mild beer" until the court has passed upon the claim of the United States Brewers' Association that the beverage, containing 2.3-4 percent alcohol is non-intoxicating, was assured today when Federal Judge Mayer granted an injunction restraining government interference with its men. The court declared that its decision had been influenced by President Wilson's message to congress recommending repeal of the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it related to beer and wine, and by Federal Judge A. N. Hand's ruling last week that the law placed a ban on the making of light beer.

A message announcing the delay would not be attempted, was received by the navy department from Admiral Jackson at Ponta Delgada this morning, but caused no disappointment as weather forecasts had indicated continuation of storms in the vicinity of the Azores.

ATTENTION, WOMEN! PANTS WON THE WAR WEAR PANTS!

ALL HE SAW WAS PANTS!

He was just back from the war—wounded and longing for the sight of a regular female woman. But he found neither and "hee" and almost all the girls he knew wearing trousers. They were also running the town, while the men nursed the babies. And "she" had stolen his job! So "Little Abe" declared a new war against a new tyranny. And as Abraham Lincoln freed the black men of the South, so did Abraham Lincoln Jones free the white men of his home town.

CRAYCRAFT ACQUITTED

The trial of Edward Craycraft, young Porter township farmer, indicted on a charge of burglary and larceny, was suddenly terminated in the afternoon.

The charge of the defendant grew out of the theft of some carpenter tools belonging to Henry Gosh from a shed owned by Fred Wade and the stolen property was found at the home of the defendant's father, the evidence showed.

The court in passing on the motion which was offered when the state had rested its case, declared that no facts connecting the accused with the alleged theft or evidence showing that the property was in his exclusive possession, had been offered by the state, but instead the testimony offered went no further than merely raising a suspicion.

VILLA BOBS UP AS MENACE IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, May 24—Official advices from various parts of Mexico which have been received here daily for the past two weeks, indicate that the situation in the northern part of that country due to the operations of Francisco Villa is more serious than heretofore has been reported. It was learned today from an authoritative source that Villa and his organized force of rebels was now threatening parts of Durango, as well as Chihuahua to the north.

American military men, it was learned, have asked for special trains be ready to remove them and their families from the danger zone when Villa approaches. Officials asserted, however, that as yet no American has been molested by the Villistas and that the United States had treated all Americans with consideration. Some American property has, however, been taken by the Villistas when they looted food, material and funds.

HAD CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE FIFTY YEARS

Mr. Plez Finally Found How to End It—He's 68 Years Old.

"I had been afflicted for 50 years with chronic stomach and digestive trouble and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief. Saved Man And Woman From Death In River

The Times is in receipt of the following self explanatory letter.

Madison, Ohio,
May 23, 1919.

"Lewis Selby, well known mate of the steamer Mildred, saved two old people from drowning by making a timely rescue at Racine early Tuesday morning.

Shortly after going on watch Monday night, Mr. Selby heard someone moving near the boat and after awhile he heard the faint voice of a woman crying for help. There was a terrible electrical and thunder storm at the time.

The time but Mr. Selby took only of the life boats and went to the rescue of the woman. He was in the boat but a few minutes when he discovered that it was not only a woman who was in distress but also a man. He succeeded in getting them on board the steamer and kept them until morning, when he sent them on their way home.

The man was very much intoxicated and both were lost on the river and greatly frightened by the storm. The steamer Mildred was at Racine at 10:30 a. m. below Racine when Miss Selby and the rescue was made.

Battle Is Still On

Two old rivals at it again. The Army with General C. P. Conrad, the Navy, Admiral Henry Rogers, (Y. M. C. A. contestants) fighting hard for new members, renewals and lost but not least, sustaining members. The battle has raged for five days, with the Navy, then the Army in the lead. Today is the last day of the contest, but at the present time the two teams are so closely together in points that it is hard to judge who will win until the very last moment when all reports from both sides will be in.

Yesterday's report of points were as follows: Navy 702, Army 504. The Navy is certainly putting up a hard and close fight for honors on land as well as sea. It means a hard fight on the part of the Army this last day if they want to hold their own and live up to the name the Army has made in all parts of the world as land forces.

As Portsmouth has no Central Y. M. C. A. the business men and citizens of the city are invited to become members of the National Y. and enjoy all the privileges of the Central Y. Join the Army or the Navy this last day of the drive and help put Portsmouth "Over the top" where this city belongs.

Natural Curiosity.
Nature has placed one of her curiosities on the location of a former sugar mill on the island of Trinidad. The plant has since been reduced to ruins and is overgrown with vegetation. The old solid chimney is intact and growing through its center one of the quick growing trees of the tropics has sprung, spreading its branches out of the top of the huge chimney and is now in full bloom.

ALLEE SAMEE, HE LITEE BASEBALL DOPE

Lee Woo, reporting ball game.

Lee Woo, the great Hong Kong baseball writer, has been engaged by a San Francisco paper to report the daily games of the professional leagues in the west. Lee sails from Hong Kong in a few days. He became an adept in the art of playing shuttlecock at the age of ten and at fourteen he was a champion. Because of his superiority at the game he was ruled off and then had to content himself with being umpire. At sixteen, when he was considered the greatest authority on the game, he met a missionary that taught him baseball in America.

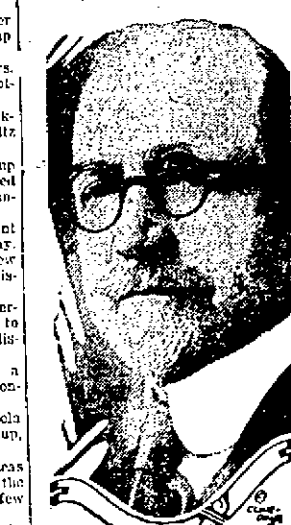

He manufactured a set of gloves, bats and bats and induced his followers to play the game. With Lee as umpire the game prospered. He has now come to America and is conducting the column entitled "Silkie Out." He is here seen watching a close play through a telescope, after which he yells, "Take out pitcher man; him ain't go by-by."

NEAT SUM CLEARED BY SENIOR PLAY

The receipts of the senior class play "Motions-Nous," or "Let's Get Married" will amount to $663.35 according to the figures given out today. The play was given on Thursday and Friday evenings in the high school auditorium and was greeted by two packed houses. For the two evenings the number of seats in the auditorium amounted to a total of 1963. The first evening 41 seats were left in the balcony, although a number preferred chairs in the main floor aisles. The second performance saw every seat taken.

The money, after expenses are paid, will be at the disposal of the senior class, who will vote upon the method of its expenditure.

Although she lived a great part of her life away from Portsmouth, she felt that this city was her home as the memories of the past came to mean more to her than the realities of the present. However, she kept up to date on all civic and world affairs and was vitally interested in the war. She entered the Home for Aged Women in 1905.

Cooper, spending the rest of her life in that place. The deceased lived a very exemplary life. She was a woman known for her acts of kindness and will be greatly missed. The Heel of Achilles in Tires

The weak spot in a tire is where tread stops and sidewall begins.

On any road but smooth, flat pavement, the spears of the road—stones and broken rock—are constantly jabbing at this Heel of Achilles. And the sides of wagon tracks, when you ride ruts, grind wickedly at vulnerable flanks.

Your eyesight tells you that. Now look at the SAFETY TREAD of Goodrich Tires. See how it spreads the Goodrich interlocking safety bars beyond the ball of the tire, and layers tread rubber along the sidewall.

Notice further, how the extra wide tread carries on up the sides of the tire, extending beneath the sidestrips.

Thus an extra thickness of tough tread rubber fortifies Goodrich Tires at the Heel of Achilles.

Remember, that is one of the many reasons why Goodrich Tires lead in mileage over all roads, rough or smooth.

The thoughts of thousands of Americans on Memorial Day will be far across the sea where the boys who gave their all for world freedom are lying. But there is no need to feel that the memory of these heroes will not be honored.

American organizations still doing reconstruction work in France and scores of French organizations have laid plans to decorate the American graves to show again their appreciation, not only for the sacrifice these boys have made, but for the sacrifice the mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts of the heroes made. This photo, recently received, shows how the graves have been kept up and are decorated for

Pay Your Water Rent

Properly owners are urged to pay their water rent today or the first few days next week in order to avoid the penalty of paying the bills at the end of next week. As a rule many wait until the last two or three days and have to stand in line a long time before being served. This is a great inconvenience to themselves and the receiver as well.

JOBING AND SHEET MILLS WILL RESUME OPERATION SUNDAY NIGHT

Six sheet mills and two jobbing mills in the plant of the Whitaker-Crescent company will resume operations Sunday at midnight. Employees of these departments should govern themselves accordingly.

The 24 inch bar mill and the bloom mill resumed operations last night. Within a few days it is probable that practically the entire big plant will be in running order.

RETURNED SOLDIER BEATEN UP IN FREE-FOR-ALL SCRAP LAST NIGHT

The near approach of the hands-off of the saloons produced a big fight of offenders in police court this morning, although no serious trouble occurred Friday night.

A free-for-all fight was staged at 11th and Broadway streets last night in which Phillip Fyffe, a returned soldier, was severely beaten and resulted in the arrest of his alleged assailants, Dave Jackson, Angus Bryant, Daniel Lester and Straw Blison. As Fyffe was not able to appear in court this morning the case was continued and Lester and Blison were released.

While Jackson and Bryant were ordered held.

Ernest Dixon, returned colored soldier, was convicted of drunkenness and misconduct on the street in the presence of women and he was fined $22 and costs. Dixon was arrested at Eleventh and John streets last night.

Plans Fanning, employed at the Terminal, arrested last night for threatening to assault S. B. Higsby, was dismissed when the latter failed to show up.

William H. Kerr and William H. Harrison who were arrested last night for assaulting a colored boy named Bishop Thomas at Second and Chittenden streets failed to appear for trial and the mayor ordered them brought in and held until after May 27.

Walter Shultz, Berry Boyd and Julius Peterson, all charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty and they each drew the usual $5 and costs, while John Noel and Albert Newman, plain drunks, were dismissed with a warning to be careful.

MOONSHINERS AND REVENUE MEN WAGE FIERCE BATTLE; ONE KILLED

BLUEFIELD W. VA., May 24.—One moonshiner has been killed and 24-revenue agents have been injured in a fight in the mountains near Wise Court House, and the only means of communication for many miles is by courier.

Attacked From Ambush

It is known, however, that the officers started after the still, which reports here state is on the property of a man named Mullens. They were quite a distance from their goal when they were attacked from ambush.

Eight revenue agents and state officials were in the party and they thought they could soon overpower the assailants, whose numbers are unknown. But the fight continued, and up to a late hour last night no sign of the moonshiners could be seen.

Bullets rained thick and fast around the authorities, Gardner, who was brought here for medical attention last night.

Officers Powerless

The officers were powerless, he said, and could arrest the moonshiners' fire only by guessing at their location. This continued several hours, Gardner said, when he fell with a bullet through his neck and one in his left shoulder.

The officers remained on the scene throughout the night, and the battle was resumed at daylight this morning. Early this morning it was established that a man named Mullens was killed. Whether he is the owner of the still is unknown. There are several families of that name in the section. Reports reaching here by travelers from Wise Court House state that a second moonshiner has been mortally wounded.

WILL MAKE REFRIGERATION PLANTS

Upon his return from Cincinnati Friday, Guy V. Thompson, one of the incorporators of the Portsmouth Refrigeration Company, which was incorporated at Columbus this week, stated that his firm would in the immediate future return to the manufacture of Jack Frost-refrigeration plants. They were successfully made before the war and the firm has outlined plans to turn them out on a more extensive scale than ever.

The incorporators of the company are Guy V. Thompson, P. E. Selby and son, Iva Selby of this city and two stockholders in Huntington.

The firm's plant is at Third and Jefferson streets.

DETAIL OF SOLDIERS TO PAY HONOR TO FLAG AT DEMOBILIZATION SERVICE

By the courtesy of Lieut. Roy S. Honner, in charge of the detail of soldiers from Camp Sherman, now on duty in Portsmouth, a most interesting and dramatic feature will close the exercises by which the First Presbyterian church plans to honor their soldiers in the "demobilization" of their Service Flag Sunday evening. Wearing their arms, a Sergeant and squad of men will act as guard of honor and conduct what is probably the most impressive of all military ceremonies—"the honors to the colors."

This ceremony is observed daily in every military camp at the hour of retreat. Custom requires the men to stand stiffly at attention in silence awaiting the playing of the national air. When silence reigns once more the band sounds "Attention" and "Parade Rest." At the conclusion of the call, the detail steps forward, and while the beautiful notes of the "Reveille" are blown, they draw the banners and lower the colors, carefully watching lest any corner of the flag be soiled by contact with the ground.

The flag is reverently folded into the form of a star, and as the bugle notes die away, the squad bears it to its resting place for the night, under guard. The men are then dismissed.

In default of a military band Sunday evening, if an audience will take their place. Since the ordinary assemblage slugs this anthem outfitly (too fast to suit military tradition, Miss Ruth A. Fitch will sing the verse as a solo, at the group the boys are accustomed to, asking the audience to join her in the chorus. The rest of the exercises will be carried out precisely as in the camps, in this country and "over there." After the flag has been properly bestowed, the congregation will be dismissed.

Eight young girls, attired as Red Cross nurses, will have charge of pinning the silver service bars to the stars as the soldiers' names are read. They are: Helen Hopkins, Ruth Hopkins, Gladys Dole, Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, Helen Williamson, Katherine Knowles, Esther Pennywell and Georgia May West. This pretty ceremony will be under the direction of Mrs. Lena Kline Reed.

The special music will consist of the singing of King's well known "Hallelujah" by the quartet: Miss Fitch, Mrs. Stock, Mr. Lorey and Mr. Schwartz. Miss Fitch will sing "When the Boys Come Home," by Oley Speaks. At a special place in the service the audience will indulge in community singing of a number of patriotic airs, closing with "Keep the Home Fires Burning," in which Miss Fitch will sing the solo.

Body Buried At Infirmary

The body of Bailey Bacon, the strange character, who died at Hempstead hospital Thursday following his arrest for attempting to rob the cash register at the Alcorn saloon on Second street was buried in Potter's field at the county farm yesterday afternoon. Efforts of the authorities to locate relatives of the dead man failed.

A man named Fitzgerald who called at the county morgue yesterday after viewing the body positively identified the man as being "Bad Bill" Smith, for many years a notorious character in and about Columbus, and that "Barney Bacon" was an assumed name he declared.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ASCENSION DAY SERVICES AT FRANKLIN AVE. CHURCH

Big preparations are being made for the visit of the Knights Templar at Franklin Ave. church Sunday evening at 7:30 at which time the Ascension Day services will be held. A special program is being printed and the musical numbers include anthems by the chorus choir, selections by the church male quartet and special solos, all to keeping with the occasion. Notices have been sent to all Sir Knights and the committee in charge consisting of Messrs. Kiefer, Duls, and Marting are arranging to convey all from the Masonic Hall to the church in automobiles. It goes without saying that the public is invited and as these services are especially beautiful a large attendance is anticipated.

Value embraces fit, comfort, quality, wear, dainty appearance, healthful support—not one of the six, but every one of these six in equal proportion.

Ladies Night

Owing to the fact that it will be impossible for at least two bowling teams to be recruited until Monday, it has been decided to extend the time in the City Bowling Tournament until Monday night, at which time the committee will get to work on a schedule which will appear in Tuesday's Noon Extra. It is possible that games will be scheduled for Tuesday night, as it now looks as though at least eight teams would enter the tourney—perhaps ten. If that is true it will take up the entire week for the rolling of the five men events.

Interest in the coming tournament is at white heat and it is bound to be the best affair of its kind ever pulled off at the Play House alleys. The captains of the respective teams are requested to collect entrance money and to have the players participate in the singles and doubles. It will mean a purse of $150.00, which will be something well worth shooting for. In addition to the prize money, Manager Gableman will donate a suitable trophy to the individual champion—the player who emerges from the fray with the highest average. Of course only those who participate in the three events will be eligible to compete for the metal.

Kentucky Handicap Today

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 24.—The Kentucky Handicap, which was postponed to the post. With only 113 ponies added to be run today at Churchill Downs, will decide for the present the championship of the older division of horses, according to turf critics. The leading performers of the East and West are carded to meet in this mile and a quarter contest for 3-year-olds Thursday.

Much interest was added through the announcement that Regge Hood, winner of the King's County Handicap at Jamaica last Saturday, would show his ability to carry big weight. He is said to be at the top of his form. Trainer Redwell planned to send jockey Johnny Loftus here to ride the big horse. He piloted Sir Barton to victory in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Extracurricular, Willis Sharp Kilmer's candidate, is favored by many Western horsemen. He will have up 134 pounds. His defeat here last week is not taken seriously.

SPORT SALAD

Strong drink is not raging in Indianapolis.

Hence the predicament of Jules Goux, late lieutenant of French artillery who hopes to duplicate his 1913 Indianapolis 500 mile triumph in the Liberty sweepstakes race to be run over the Hoosier speedway, May 31.

In previous 500 mile races, the Peugeot driver drank wine whatever he stopped at his pit to take up gasoline or change tires. Champagne, red, white or brandy, was his drink. He gulped down a pint of fermented grape juice without taking the bottle from his lips just as the American driver sucks an orange or quenches his thirst with water.

But times have changed since Monsieur Goux made his last appearance in Indianapolis. As far as national prohibition is concerned, the Hoosier metropolis has beaten the barrier by more than a year. Literature is still rampant there, but booze is not.

Perhaps some friendly and benevolent Hoosier already has disclosed to Goux the secret of hero and the raisin. Perhaps the famous French driver will be successful in smuggling in a case of his cherished champagne. But will he dare drink it publicly in defiance of the law and the watching constabulary?

Yes, Jules Goux is in a hurry fix as far as liquid refreshments with a kick in it is concerned.

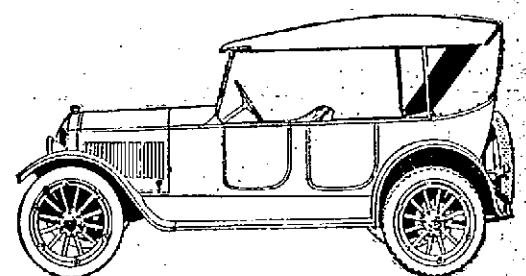

According to the Pittsburgh Press, Howie Caton is suffering from strain of ligaments and may not get in the game for another week or two. He has been on the bench for three weeks. Howie writes friends that he strained his ligaments while watching for Uncle Sam.

Rath is playing a great game at second for the Reds. He is fielding like a Buddy McPhee and most of his hits have been very timely. Moran thinks a lot of his new second sacker.

Moline beat Evansville, 5 to 4 Thursday, but this did not prevent "Irish" Conwell from making three blows. He is playing a sifty game at third for Evansville.

The Reds have now played eight games in the East and have won 4 and lost 4. They broke even in Brooklyn, lost two in New York and beat Boston their first game yesterday.

AN APPRECIATED LETTER

EVERY once in a while we receive some word of praise for The Times and again, we also receive criticism. We appreciate both, for it's a good thing to know that people disapprove, as well as that they approve of what is being said in the daily press. We say this in preface to commenting upon a letter we received the other day from The Anderson Brothers Company. Coming as it did from a firm that had been a consistent and steady advertiser in The Times ever since it was established, one that advertises on a strictly business basis, as all advertising should be placed, we are frank to say that it was wonderfully appreciated, and it made us feel that after all the effort and work in making a newspaper that circulates over this entire section, was not in vain. We are taking the liberty of reproducing the letter without asking permission. It follows:

THE ANDERSON BROS. COMPANY

Dry Goods

Chillicothe, Corner Third

Portsmouth, Ohio

May 16, 1919.

The Portsmouth Daily Times

Portsmouth, Ohio

Gentlemen:

We are just about to close our 45th Anniversary Sale and there are some observations which might be of interest to you. Heretofore, we have divided our advertising appropriation among several mediums, which included the country papers of Greenup, Waverly, Oak Hill, and Vanceburg. We also sent six or eight men into the rural districts for two days each with circulars, and have also used muslin banners throughout the county.

This year, through the courtesy of your advertising and circulation departments, the writer was furnished a list showing the total number of subscribers to the Daily Times in each locality from which we draw trade, and we were surprised at the thoroughness with which you covered the very territory we wished to reach. The writer at once suggested to our committee of department managers meeting to formulate plans for this sale that we spend all our advertising appropriation for space in the Daily Times, and with the exception of one hundred muslin banners in the rural districts, we have carried out the plan.

It might be of further interest to you to know that our sale will far surpass even our wildest dreams; exceeding the high quota in sales which we put up before the sale to shoot at. The writer feels, and in that his views are corroborated by the other members of the firm who are heartily in accord with this letter, that the publishers of The Daily Times should know these facts, and also of our appreciation of your paper as an advertising medium for through it alone as a bearer of our advertisements, we are about to close the biggest selling event in our history.

It would be unfair, too, not to mention the splendid work of your mechanical department in setting up and printing our sale ads in a truly efficient manner.

Yours Truly,
THE ANDERSON BROS. CO.

THE BURDEN UPON ALL

COUNCIL has had submitted to it the annual budget for year 1920, which calls for the levying and, of course, the expenditure of a gross sum of $474,122.

Now, just think of that. For the next year it is going to cost almost a half million dollars, for the next twelve months, beginning in January! Yes, it will cost more than half a million dollars to keep this town a-going, because, from past experience, it can be counted a dead certainty, that the sum total of taxes asked for will not be sufficient to keep the wheels going around. There will have to be more bond issues to meet more deficits, such as there has been so much of in the past.

Granting there will be no more than the total estimated that will still impose a tax of twelve dollars and better for every mortal soul resident in the city. In the abstract it is an unbelievable tribute, but in practice there is no denying its existence. The aggregate is divided into about a half dozen different funds. Half of these reach colossal proportion, safety $147,650; public service $178,635; sinking $95,577. The safety funds take care of the police and fire departments, the service, improvements, such as waterworks and electric lights, sewers and repairs, sinking, of the interest and principal of bonds.

It must be understood the near half million is solely for city purposes. State, county and school expenses are levied separately, and will run somewhere in the neighborhood of half as much, so to the twelve dollars may be added half as much, making a per capita of eighteen dollars for each person. To be sure the tax is not levied upon each head, but upon property, but we can never get the real idea of taxes until we measure its burden by the proportion it bears to population affected. And taxes affect every individual, whether all directly pay them or not. The welfare of a community is dependent upon those who own the property and do the labor therein. Taxes affect both of these, it is plain enough. If a laborer sweats under taxation capital will not seek investment therein and it cannot thrive; if the landlord has exorbitant taxes to pay his first suggestion of method to escape therefrom is to raise rents.

Portsmouth has not grievously felt the weight of taxation, partly because she has been exceedingly prosperous and further she is "in the same boat" as every other town. Mounting expenditures, however, contain a serious threat to her people. It is high time, therefore, for her to be looking into the subject of them. If she can introduce a policy of retrenchment and economy so that she can offer the enticement of comparatively low taxes there is no other town that will rival her in development and consequent prosperity.

She can make the first important step in that direction by electing a mayor and a council, this fall, that will administer her affairs on purely business principles, regardless of appeals, horn of political aspirations or considerations.

THE WISHING PLANE

When Jack and Jane finished their queer lunch the natives had given them all up close to the bonfire and there, spread out for them, was a pile of presents that the natives had made for them. For Jane and Jack, there were bright shawls made out of long silky grass that was as soft as velvet and colored many pretty shades. There were funny handbags made out of leather, and quaint pieces of jewelry made out of odd stones. There were also lots of bamboo baskets. One of them Jane decided would make just the latest sewing box for her mother.

The men were given belts made out of leather and trimmed with bits of metal, money belts and other articles. When the children got through examining all the presents Jack's first question was, "How are we going to get all of these things home? We can't carry them in the airplane."

Dr. Cheer came to the rescue and said, "I will have all of the things packed in a box and sent back to Make Believe town for you the next time one of the American ships stops here to take away flowers and seeds." "I will mark on the box that your folks should not open it until you little ones get home so you can have the fun of giving the presents to father and mother and the others," said Dr. Cheer.

"My gracious won't they be curious to find out what is in the box," said both children at once.

By this time it was getting late. In fact I am afraid that if I told you that it was close to midnight, you would think that Captain Brave and Ladydear were letting the children stay up pretty late, so after Dr. Cheer had told the natives in their own language what a wonderful time all of the visitors had had, Jack and Jane and their friends climbed into the airplane and in a few minutes were back at Dr. Cheer's house.

There was bad news for them next morning for Captain Bold had received a wireless message which ordered him to report immediately with his submarine at a far distant port.

The children were sad indeed when Captain Bold told them that he would have to leave that day and could not continue with them on their travels. The captain explained to them though, that there was much work to be done, although the war was over, and he would have to do his share. So Captain Bold and his crew made ready to leave. The captain shook hands with Ladydear and Captain Brave and Dr. Cheer and Jack, but Jane insisted on giving him a hug and a kiss. You would have thought that Jane was begging him to stay for the little dog was sitting on his head feet on the deck in front of the submarine looking at Captain Bold just as sorrowfully as he could with his little black shoe button eyes.

As the submarine steamed away Captain Brave shouted "we may see you again soon captain, as we are going to leave for another part of the world tomorrow too."

You will have to wait until tomorrow to hear where they were going.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY COMMENTARY

NEW YORK, May 24.—The first warm sunshine of summer has brought the early contingent of chorus men back to Broadway. Others touring in musty shows will soon be drifting in to occupy the hall and rooms in the sidewalk boarding houses.

The Automats will have many new patrons for the chorus men always comes back to town as Will Cross says as free of money as a pint of ice cream. The Chorus Man is a New York type absolutely impossible to understand.

He is both pathetic and ridiculous, but at all times lovable. He is the butt of all the bitter scorn of contemptuous quips of blasé theatre-goers and yet the man—and one man does it all—who furnishes them, for musical comedies says he has never heard a chorus man who knocked anybody or anything.

Most of them have had their Big Dreams and are willing now to drift with the tide. An engagement here and one there keeps the room rent paid and hushes pretender. Regularly the men who are so ambitious are the shabby dressers of the Biltmore. There is a little store over on the Eighth avenue which they patronize, old in her arms. Quite undisturbed by

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAYS NEWS

COM. H. C. RICHARDSON

No small amount of the credit for the feat that has just been accomplished by the U. S. navy planes in crossing or almost crossing the Atlantic ocean belongs to Commander Holden C. Richardson, Commander Towers' high-hand man on the construction end of the expedition.

COM. RICHARDSON

Richardson had a large share, it is understood, in the design of the hull of the NC planes. He has been an aviation pilot for many years and was one of the men who, with Towers, developed the catapult for launching a seaplane from a battleship. He is a Pennsylvanian, born in 1878, and entered the naval academy in 1897. Graduating high in his class, he was assigned to construction. His first important connection with aviation came in 1912, when he was ordered to the navy yard at Washington for experimental work on naval hydro-airplanes. He became one of the first aeronautical engineers in the country, and for the last six years, engaged in the design and construction of seaplanes. While at the Pensacola station he was one of the first officers to risk his life in a seaplane driven for the first time by a libery motor. He is forty-one years old.

The proprietor knows how to take second hand clothes and jazz them up into the latest Fifth Avenue diction of Braunschweig. These bright afternoons they swarm around the surbs of Times Square.

Give them a three days' supply of cigarettes and a week's board paid and life to them is real contentment. The chorus-man has showed that he is not a coward when the big moment comes. A reporter on a Sunday paper failed in a ten days' search to find a chorus man slacker. All tried to get to the service and only those who failed to pass the physical test remained behind.

There was one noted for his striped shirt of silk, his wild hued spats and tight-fitting suit. He was in a Broadway show and they used to say he was the only chorus man with an ambition. He wanted to play Hamlet. When the bugles of the Great War blew, he sailed away for France with the wanted gaily of an actor who climbs aboard the gang-plank of a paper mache ship in a musical comedy.

The word came back a few weeks ago. The leaves on the tomb of Booth and Irving are sore but the poppies that toss over the grave of a valorous youth who went forth singing into battle, shall blossom in our hearts with Shakespeare's dream. He was a Chorus Man.

A Politeness Drive is on at Girls High School in Brooklyn. The drive was made necessary, the principal says, by the failure of students to observe the Anglo-Saxon traditions. The war was to blame. Girls got into war work, it was said, and became careless of the little niceties. Now manners, public and private, are included in the course.

The bus carrying tourists to China-town stood by the Broadway curb, waiting for the lead the ballyhoo was collecting with his megaphone. Under the glaring lanterns sat a young woman, quite alone, with a wide-awake on her head, not more than six months old in her arms. Quite undisturbed by the amusement and interest her presence excited, she gazed at the passing throng. That it was near midnight, a time when children are asleep in quiet nurseries dismayed her not. Nor did the open comment of horrified mothers seem to shake her nerves. She means to see the shams and horrors of China-town at midnight, and the baby was a side issue. The child will no doubt grow up strong and sturdy and a more carefully reared baby, safeguarded by every modern device, succumbs to the first passing ailment. Babies are that way.

The motor tire thieves are raiding the town. A silk hatted man in a fur coat watches limousines left in front of hotels, drives them away several blocks where with aids he strips the cars of the tires and decamps. Six cars were stolen last week from in front of the St. Regis, Plaza and Majestic.

Word was received in the city today announcing the safe arrival of Walter Hays back in the United States. Mr. Hays was a member of the military band having been overseas for the past year. He was formerly employed by The Portsmouth Hat Company and expects to be back in Portsmouth within a few days.

Recently a contractor in great need of extra hands asked St. Warren, who was always hanging around the job, to work for him.
"What'll ye pay?" asked St.
"I'll pay you what you are worth." St. scratched his head for a minute, and then answered decisively:
"I'll be darned if I'll work for that."

AUSTRIAN ARMY TO BE REDUCED TO MERE HANDFUL OF SOLDIERS

TREATY TERMS WILL WIPE OUT THE AUSTRIAN MILITARY, NAVAL POWERS

COX VETOES HIGHWAY BILL, SAYS IT MENACES CAUSE OF GOOD ROADS

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—Governor Cox today vetoed the Fouts highway bill and in his veto message declared: "I would be false to my every concept of duty if I did not veto this bill because it menaces the cause of good roads, and is calculated to set the whole movement back for a decade at least." Republican leaders in the legislature contemplating the governor's action have declared they will pass the bill over the executive veto.

Inside and by agencies almost, if not altogether, devoted to highway activity, and that "every selfish interest which saw an opportunity to participate shared in the authority."

"As now written," the governor says, "this bill violates the time honored principle of permitting neither contract nor appropriation for public use until all the money requisite for the project are in the hand."

He points out that this also is in violation of repeated supreme court decisions. "There is entirely too much of a disposition present to provide for the needs or the desires of the hour by the creation of debt," he asserts.

Relative to the authorized increased tax levies, the veto message says no serious fault can be found with the increased state levy, which is from three tenths to five tenths of a mill, "but when we go further, we are indulging in a generosity with the people's money that sound business principles cannot endorse."

Unless a check is applied somewhere the governor says, he hazards the statement that bills now pending will carry an increase in the tax rate approximately five mills in some parts of the state. The governor points out to Mexico and Russia as examples of conditions resulting from burdensome taxation and dearth of home owners.

THEY'RE ALL SMILES
VERSAILLES, May 24.—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau and the other members of the peace delegation, who went to Spa on Thursday, returned here this morning with the exception of Dr. Theodore Melchior, the German special expert. All the members of the party were smiling and seemed in good spirits.

AUSTRIAN ARMY SLASHED
PARIS, Friday, May 23. (By the A. P.)—It was announced tonight that the treaty to be presented to Austria would be considered at a plenary session next Tuesday and would be laid before the Austrian delegation, probably on Wednesday.

The council of four today considered the military terms as framed by Marshal Foch, commander in the chief of the allied armies; General Diaz, supreme commander of the Italian army, and other military leaders.

Austria's formidable army of upwards of a million men, which was second only to that of Germany, is reduced by the treaty to fifteen thousand men; virtually all military supplies would be surrendered or destroyed and further military production abolished.

The naval terms are similarly sweeping, all warships being surrendered and Austria's position as a naval power terminated.

THEY'RE BACK AGAIN
PARIS, May 24.—(Havas)—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, and his colleagues conferred yesterday at Spa with Philipp Scheidemann, Matthias Erzberger, Bernhard Dernburg and Count Von Bernstorff. In the evening, Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau left for Versailles and the members of the German government started for Berlin.

Newspapers here unanimously approve of the "firmness, justice and precision of the reply of the peace conference to the notes of Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau. In the reply relative to economic questions, they see the 'resolute determination of the entente to obtain all desirable reparations.'"

MUCH WORK TO DO
PARIS, May 23.—The American delegation has prepared a memorandum of the allied subjects. The memorandum runs thru many pages, with scores of headings. It leaves no doubt that the conference will continue for a considerable time after the treaties have been signed and President Wilson has left, it being expected that the other American members will remain to consider matters still requiring attention.

At Martinsville
John W. Flood of the East End is spending several weeks at Martinsville health resort. He will take a good rest before resuming work. Mr. Flood was kept very busy during the war on account of his clerks being called to the colors.

The defiant attitude of the German peace delegates regarding the peace terms offered, there has caused General Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary force, to delay a trip to London until later. General Pershing has been in conference with Marshal Foch regarding plans of the allied armies of occupation should the Germans finally refuse to sign the peace treaty.

HINES FORCED TO ACCEPT STEEL PRICES

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Orders for 200,000 tons of open hearth rails have been placed by the Railroad Administration with six steel companies which is in response of a request for bids, quoted uniformly at a price based on the agreement between the steel industry and the recently dissolved Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce.

Director General Hines when refused to abide by the agreement, was an influential factor in the dissolution of the industrial board, in announcing the orders, said they were placed "under protest" and with the "emphatic disapproval of the prices and the manner in which they were established."

The price submitted by all of the bidders was announced by Director Hines as $41 a ton which is the exact price agreed upon for such rails by the steel manufacturers and the industrial board. The companies submitting bids were Carnegie Steel Company, Illinois Steel Company, Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Bethlehem Steel Company and Lackawanna Steel Company.

UNION CHIEFS SAY ONLY FEW WILL RETURN

TOLLEDO, O., May 21.—Union leaders declared today they were confident that only a struggling few of the 7,000 or 8,000 workers in the Willcox, Cleveland and Electric Auto-Lite plants who were locked out May 8, when they refused to work 48 instead of 45 hours a week, would return to work Monday when the factories here announced they will reopen.

All told, approximately 10,000 workers were locked out and the factories closed. The men are demanding a 44 hour week and wage increases of from 10 to 25 cents an hour.

Company officials claim letters received from workers indicated a large force would return and accept the 45 hour week and the existing wage scale.

Mayor Cornell Schellert and Safety Director Chris Wall were giving final instructions today to a civilian and ex-soldier police force which will guard the factories and homes of workers beginning Monday.

Union heads counsel that several thousand men not members of auto trades unions would return to work but said not enough workers in basic trades would be on hand to permit the manufacture of automobiles.

The price submitted by all of the bidders was announced by Director Hines as $41 a ton which is the exact price agreed upon for such rails by the steel manufacturers and the industrial board. The companies submitting bids were Carnegie Steel Company, Illinois Steel Company, Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Bethlehem Steel Company and Lackawanna Steel Company.

VILLA BOBS UP AS MENACE IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Official notices from various parts of Mexico which have been received here daily for the past two weeks, indicate that the situation in the northern part of that country due to the operations of Francisco Villa is more serious than heretofore has been reported. It was learned today from an authoritative source that Villa and his organized force of rebels was now threatening parts of Durango, as well as Chihuahua to the north.

American military men, it was learned, have asked for special trains to ready to remove them and their families from the danger zone when Villa approaches. Officials asserted, however, that as yet no American has been molested by the Villistas and that Villa himself, had treated all Americans with consideration. Some American property has, however, been taken by the Villistas when they need food, material and funds.

ALLIED PLANES OUTNUMBERED FOES' 2 TO 1

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Airplane strength of the allied armies on the western front when the armistice was signed was greater than that of the Germans by more than two to one, and Italians outnumbered Austrians by four to three in machines, according to official reports to the war department.

The "balloon strength" the Germans were declared to be superior, with 170 crafts to 144 for the allies, of which the Americans had 23, French 32, British 43 and Belgians 6 in use. Of the airplanes in service, British units comprised 1,178 machines, French 3, 523 and American 740 and Belgians 152.

COURT HOLDS NO BAN ON MILD BEER

NEW YORK, May 24.—Uninterrupted production of "mild beer" until the courts have passed upon the claim of the United States Brewer's association that the beverage containing 2.34 per cent alcohol is non-intoxicating was assured today when Federal Judge Gayer granted an injunction restraining government interference with its men.

The court declared that his decision had been influenced by President Wilson's message to congress recommending repeal of the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it relates to beer and wine, and by Federal Judge A. N. Hand's ruling last week that the law placed a ban on the making only of liquors that were in fact, intoxicating.

Although United States District Attorney Caffery, representing the government, opposed granting the injunction, Judge Gayer said he believed such action would contribute to a fair settlement of the question raised by the brewers under the emergency prohibition act.

All Saloons In City Close Tonight With The Exception Of One

With the exception of Paul Cope's saloon in the old Flinella stand on Gallia street, all other saloons in Portsmouth and New Boston will close their doors at the stroke of 11:30 tonight.

Statewide prohibition takes effect at 12 o'clock Monday night and saloonists to keep their places open Monday night were compelled to pay the handsome sum of $300 and all refused to do this except Mr. Cope.

Quiet reigned in all the saloons last night the police say and they are anticipating no trouble tonight when King Gambrinus is dethroned and John Barleycorn becomes a memory, that is so far as a drink over the bar is concerned.

A number of saloonists made the statement last night that if the crowds become too large or boisterous, they will close their places long before 11:30.

On Chillicothe street three saloons have already closed, The Arcade, Fitcher and Bradford and Jake Luck. This leaves but three saloons from Sixth street to Chillicothe, Alex. Kelso.

Buy Doughnuts On The Square

Visit the market square today where they are making "Dollars for Doughnuts" and cooking doughnuts for dollars to swell the fund for Salvation Army work. They say in France where the women worked right behind the lines that "Everytime a lassie gave a doughnut to a dough boy, it meant another doughboy to come for another doughnut."

The money to be raised by this city is coming in with spirit but there's more money to be raised before the goal is reached.

The money which is to be raised here will be used locally for expansion work in Portsmouth during the next sixteen months. The Salvation Army's slogan throughout the years has been "It's not your creed, it's your need," and now their slogan is to be turned to their own benefit and will be the cry of the people of Portsmouth as they swarms in the booths on the Esplanade today and buy the doughnuts being made by Dr. Jesse M. Stofe, whose record is 1000 doughnuts every three hours.

The men of the 40th Inf., who are encamped at York Park are going to assist, their truck is going to be the platform for the fund.

Mrs. Brigadier Dunham will be on the job which means "pep" of the old time kind for she has been a Salvationist for 5 years. Buy doughnuts! In France the doughboys couldn't pass by a lassie with a doughnut stand. The boys were made a welcome and could help themselves without having a cent but a day never passed, say the French workers, but that some one gave them money to "even accounts," as they would say. Portsmouth people today are going to illustrate the meaning of "Dollars for Doughnuts." No change will be returned from a doughnut sale.

On the Esplanade Friday evening where Dr. Stofe made an address while showing the 300 slides taken "over there," there was a great deal of interest shown and $150 was raised by contributions from the crowd.

The Overland Minister show put on a good series of slides which kept everything moving during the evening and put the crowd in an excellent humor with their inevitable comedy.

The trial of Edward Craycraft, young Portia township farmer, indicted on a charge of burglary and larceny, was suddenly terminated in Common Pleas court yesterday afternoon when Judge Thomas sustained a motion offered by Attorneys Blair & Blair for the defense to direct a verdict for the defendant. The jury then brought in a formal verdict of acquittal.

The charge of the defendant grew out of the theft of some carpenter tools belonging to Henry Graft from a shed owned by Fred Wade and the stolen property was found at the home of the defendant's father, the ex-lamey slacker.

The court in passing on the motion which was offered when the state had rested its case, declared that no facts connecting the accused with the alleged theft of evidence showing that the property was in his exclusive possession had been offered by the state, but instead the testimony offered went no further than merely raise a suspicion.

The Times is in receipt of the following self explanatory letter.

Basine, Ohio.
May 23, 1919.

"Lewis Selby, well known mate of the steamer Mildred, saved two old people from drowning by making a timely rescue at Basine early Tuesday morning.

Shortly after going on watch Monday night, Mr. Selby heard someone rowing near the boat and after awhile he heard the faint voice of a woman crying for help. There was a terrible electrical and thunder storm at the time but Mr. Selby took one of the life boats and went to the rescue of the woman. He was in the life boat but a few minutes when he discovered that it was not only a woman who was in distress but also a man. He succeeded in getting them on board the steamer and kept them until morning, when he sent them on their way home. The man was very much intoxicated and both were lost on the river and greatly frightened by the storm. The steamer Mildred was at Dun 21, one mile below Basine when Mate Selby made the rescue."
